28TH ANNUAL CONFERENCE
SPRING 2020

MIAMI MARRIOTT BISCAYNE BAY HOTEL
MARCH 27, 2020

www.fbn.miami.edu
Bioethics education is now an essential component of professional development. This program addresses these themes and topics: ethics committee operations and the FBN’s updated Guidelines for Ethics Committees; disability; climate change and bioethics; and “Oncoethics.” It is clear that bioethics education must be assigned the greatest possible role in the daily lives of health professionals and their institutions.

The University of Miami Leonard M. Miller School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCMCE) to provide continuing education for physicians.

All conflicts of interest of any individual(s) in a position to control the content of this CME activity will be identified and resolved prior to this educational activity being provided. Disclosure about provider and faculty relationships, or the lack thereof, will be provided to learners.

The University of Miami Leonard M. Miller School of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 5.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

This Program has been submitted to the University of Miami School of Nursing and Health Studies for a maximum of 5.0 CEU Credits. This course is approved by the Florida Bar (2001233N) for 6.0 general CLE Credits including 6 hours for health law. This activity may be used for continuing education credit for chaplains certified with the Board of Chaplaincy Certification Inc. Continuing education credits for Social Workers have been applied for.

Upon completion of this program, participants will be able to:

- Recognize the ways climate change constitutes an ethical issue; and contribute to institutional responses.
- Identify and address challenges related to decision-making for people with disabilities; and participate in ethics committee discussions of these challenges.
- Learn about ethics and oncology and contribute to a new FBN initiative on the topic.
- Learn about the new FBN Guidelines for Ethics Committees and ways to contribute to implementing them at individual institutions.
- Contribute to ethics committee and other institutional initiatives in ethics education, consultation and community engagement.

Target Audience

This course is designed for physicians, lawyers, nurses, social workers, clergy, psychologists, Board Certified Case Managers, Board Certified Patient Advocates, health administrators, philosophers and others with an interest or a need for continuing education in health ethics.

Services for the Disabled

Please contact the Division of CME prior to March 13, 2020, should you have any special needs that may require additional assistance. A conference staff member will contact you to discuss these special requirements.
