

14th Annual Pediatric Bioethics Conference

Friday, November 5, 2021

Overview

Wolfson Children's Hospital, in partnership with the Florida Bioethics Network, presents the 14th Annual Pediatric Bioethics Conference.

With talks on pressing issues by experts in the field, the conference will serve as fertile ground for the development and clarification of best practices in pediatric bioethics. It will include sessions on topics such as: Race-Based Medicine, Health and Justice, Intensive Care Decisions for Fragile Neonates, Exploring What it Means to be a "Good Parent", and Moral Distress in the Shadow of a Global Pandemic.

Why you should attend

Ethics committees, healthcare practitioners and public policy experts are consistently faced with difficult ethical challenges. This conference will provide education surrounding such challenges, and an opportunity to engage peers from across the region to learn what others are doing to cope with the ethical issues that arise in pediatric health care.

Who should attend

This course is designed for physicians, nurses, social workers, clergy, psychologists, health administrators, occupational therapists, speech therapists, pediatric mental health workers, pediatric specialists, medical students, nursing students, ethicists, philosophers, and others with an interest in or a need for continuing education in healthcare ethics.

How to register

All employees of Baptist Health; the Florida Department of Health; residents of the University of Florida (UF) College of Medicine – Jacksonville Pediatric Residency Program; nursing, social work and ethics students with a local college or university; and current Florida Bioethics Network (FBN) members receive free attendance and must register online with EventBrite: pedsbioethics14.eventbrite.com using the promotional codes in the box to the right.
