

16th Annual Pediatric Bioethics Conference

Friday, November 3, 2023

Overview

Wolfson Children's Hospital, in partnership with the Florida Bioethics Network, presents the 16th Annual Pediatric Bioethics Conference.

With talks on pressing issues by experts in the field, this virtual conference will serve as fertile ground for the development and clarification of best practices in pediatric bioethics. It will include sessions on topics such as: Decision-making in adolescent medicine, Understanding the best interest standard in pediatric medicine, and Reconceiving healthcare as a moral community.

Why you should attend

Ethics committees, health care practitioners and public policy experts are consistently faced with difficult ethical challenges. This virtual conference will provide education surrounding these challenges, and an opportunity to engage peers and learn how others are grappling with the ethical issues that arise in pediatric healthcare.

Who should attend

This course is designed for physicians, nurses, social workers, clergy, psychologists, health administrators, occupational therapists, speech therapists, pediatric mental health workers, pediatric specialists, medical students, nursing students, ethicists, philosophers, and others with an interest in or a need for continuing education in healthcare ethics.
