Pediatric Bioethics Conference

Friday, November 5, 2010

Jacksonville, Florida

Overview

Wolfson Children's Hospital, in partnership with the University of North Florida and the Florida Bioethics Network, presents the Third Annual Pediatric Bioethics Conference.

With talks on pressing issues by experts in the field, the conference will serve as fertile ground for the development and elucidation of best practices in pediatric bioethics. This conference will include sessions such as ethical issues in integrating complementary and alternative therapies, suspending judgment while providing care and ethical issues in pediatric mental health.

Why You Should Attend

Ethics committees, practitioners and public policy experts are faced with difficult ethical challenges that can benefit from education and opportunities to discuss those challenges with other professionals. This conference will provide an opportunity to engage peers from across the region and learn what others are doing to cope with the ethical issues arising from pediatric medicine.

Who Should Attend

This course is designed for physicians, nurses, social workers, clergy, psychologists, health administrators, occupational therapists, speech therapists, pediatric mental health workers, pediatric specialists, medical students, nursing students, ethicists, philosophers and others with an interest or a need for continuing education in the special area of pediatric bioethics.
