

Conversations in Ethics:

Advancing Equity in Healthcare: Ongoing Challenges and Emerging Opportunities

A Continuing Medical Education Course

Presented by the Baptist Health Bioethics Department

Live, Virtual Conference | 1 Cat. 1

Wednesday, July 10, 2024

12:00 p.m. to 1:00 p.m. EDT

Racial and ethnic minorities have poorer health outcomes, experience a lower quality of service when engaging healthcare, receive basic medical procedures at a lesser rate, have shorter life expectancies and have more significant challenges accessing healthcare.

Join Dr. Patrick Smith, Director of Bioethics Program, Trent Center for Bioethics, Humanities and the History of Medicine at Duke University, as he addresses the impact of social marginalization in health, how racialized imagination can affect healthcare delivery and impact patient outcomes.

Faculty

Patrick T. Smith, Ph.D.

Associate Research Professor of Theological Ethics and Bioethics, Duke University Divinity School

Director of Bioethics Program, Trent Center for

Bioethics, Humanities and the History of Medicine

Associate Professor in Population Health Sciences,

Duke University School of Medicine

Senior Fellow, Kenan Institute for Ethics, Duke University

Target Audience

Physicians, Physician Assistants, Nurse Practitioners, Nurses, Social Workers, Respiratory Therapists, Clinical Chaplains, Pharmacists, Medical Students, Registered Dietitians and other interested healthcare professionals.

Learning Objectives

- Highlight the impact of social marginalization on health.
- Analyze the role a racialized imagination can have in the delivery of healthcare.
- Identify four broad commitments from social ethics that can help advance health equity.

Accreditation

Baptist Health South Florida is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Baptist Health South Florida designates this live activity for a maximum of 1 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

This activity has been approved for 1 credit hour, CE Broker Course #20-700581, by the Florida Boards of Medicine, Osteopathic Medicine and by the Florida Council of Physician Assistants.

This activity has also been approved for 1 credit for Nurse Practitioners, Nurses, Pharmacists and Techs, Respiratory Therapists, Dietitians, Clinical Chaplain and Clinical Social Work, Marriage and Family Therapy and Mental Health Counseling. Baptist Health South Florida CE Broker Provider #50-182.

In collaboration with the Florida Bioethics Network

Preregistration is required.

<https://cmeonline.baptisthealth.net/content/conversations-ethics>

Baptist Health

Connect with us
BaptistHealth.net/CME

